To Whom It May Concern,

Specific & General have demonstrated on numerous occasions they are extremely proficient in the collection of debts of all sizes. We have given them some horrible debts and the results have been far beyond our expectations. Furthermore, we have been kept well informed throughout and sound advice has been provided to help us tighten up our credit control processes.

I am also extremely pleased to say Specific & General have successfully collected not just the outstanding debt but also the additional charges. To this point the exercise has been free to us but costly to our debtors.

I would not hesitate to recommend Specific & General to anyone who is looking for a cost effective and quick method of collecting old and awkward debts.

Yours sincerely,

James Todman
